Our servicemen strive for world peace

Dedication

Over a decade has passed and the fighting still continues in Vietnam. American soldiers are being killed every day, but never forget the great service they are performing to insure peace for you.

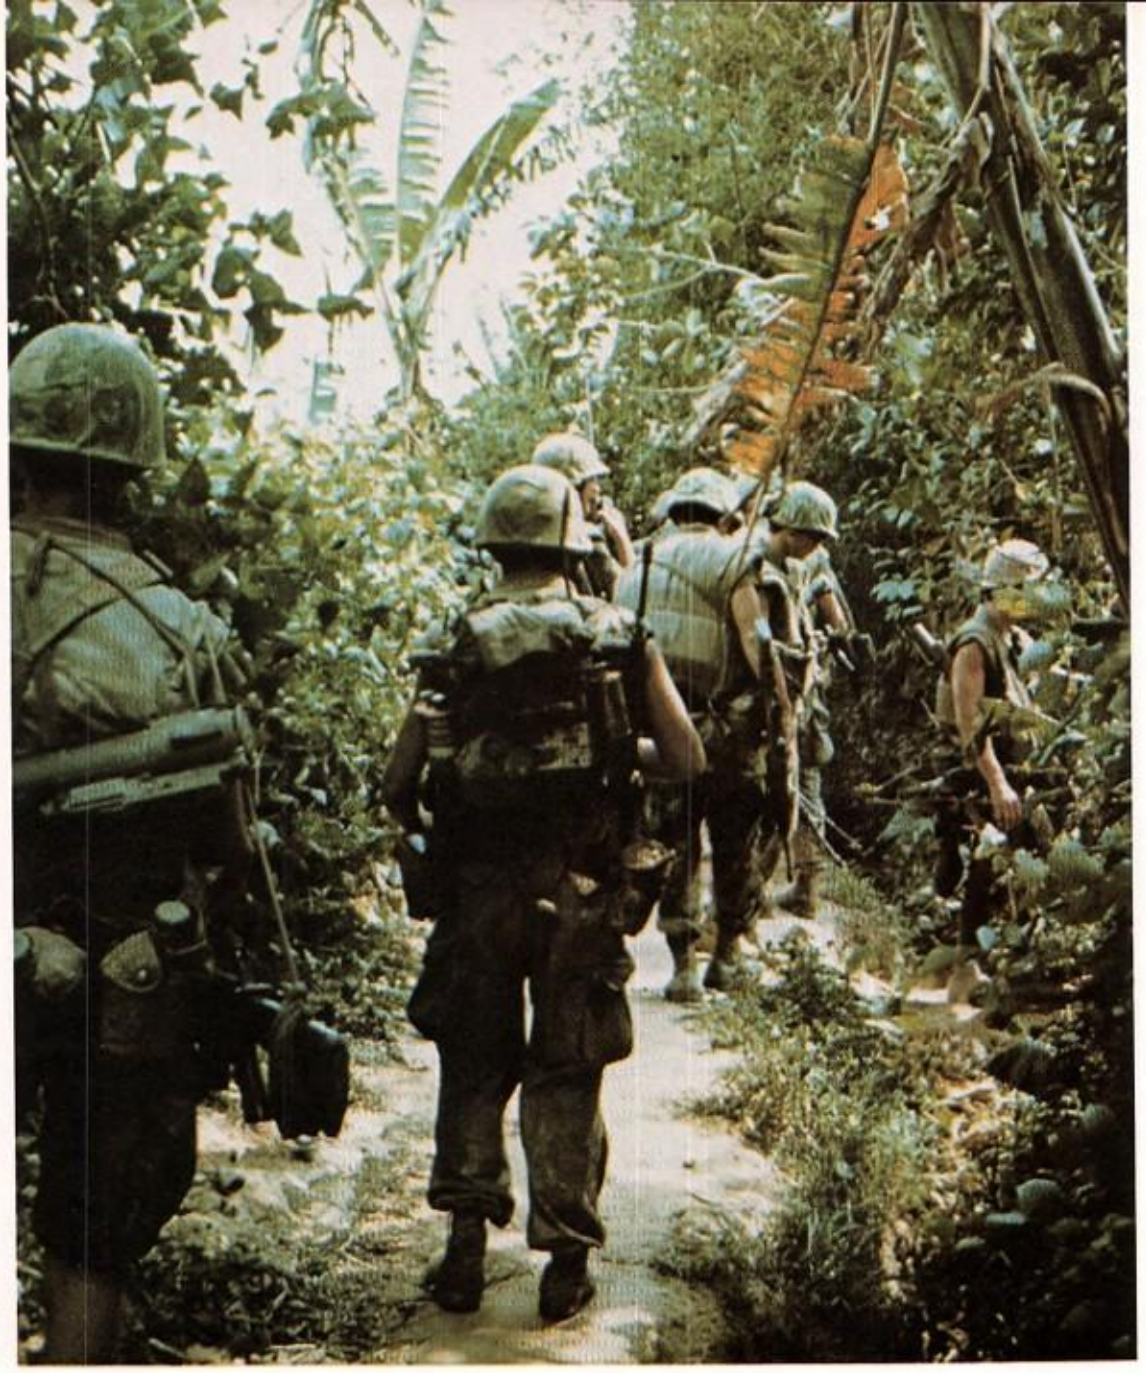
From the dangerous helicopter missions and the terror filled jungles to the dirty, poverty-stricken villages, battles are fought and the men are wounded but their spirits never die.

Relief is brought by the unselfishness of Bob Hope and other performers touring the world, lifting hearts, and bringing closer the memories of home.

You can see a soldier using a make-shift bath tub, consisting of a poncho and a hole in the ground.

All these pictures were taken by Alan Pysher (pictured at right), son of our school photographer. Assigned as a medic, Alan was wounded by the Viet Cong. We are very grateful to him and all the boys defending our country and all free people everywhere.

Since the theme of our book this year is peace for all mankind, we feel it is appropriate to have these two pages serve both as a dedication and as a symbol of peace.



It was a year of

Prodigious Events

Having the toughest job in the world, President Nixon pushes numerous programs including tax reform and the fight against pollution. He is seen here on his tour of Vietnam taken just before he took office.

Vice-Pres. Agnew is noted for his strong action when faced with pressure, always saying exactly what he thinks. He has, thus, gained the respect of many people throughout the nation.

The most outstanding scientific achievement in history, the Apollo 11, which blasted off from Cape Kennedy on July 16, 1969, at 9:32 a.m. and touched down on the Moon exactly 102 hours and 47 minutes later, was viewed by millions of people from every corner of the globe. Neil Armstrong, the first man ever to step on the Moon, was followed by Buzz Aldrin with Mike Collins orbiting the Moon in the command module.

Causing much death and destruction, Hurricane Camelle struck in August 1969, leaving her mark in many areas, especially in Gulfport, Miss. where 3 substantial freighters were washed ashore after being bombarded by 150 mile per hour winds.

The year of the "underdog" — the N.Y. Mets, perennial doormat of the National League, astounded the country by winning the World Series from Baltimore.

School Spirit and New Ideas

This year will go down in history as the time of great school feeling and changes from old, standard habits to new, diverse innovations.

Every game and pep rally was characterized by deafening chants and cheers. The height of spirit, the bonfire, took place on the night before the annual clash with Bangor on Thanksgiving Day.

A new organization, the Dance Band, is well on the way to being a significant part of our whole community. They eventually hope to play at dances and engage in dance band competition.

Seen throughout the country and at Pen Argyl is the current fashion trend, the maxi-coat. The same style was worn in the early 1900's; however, the girls pictured at right are our own fashion minded students of 1970.

Displaying their current style maxi-coats are Billy Jo Zavacky, Gail Hoffner, Debbie Kinsley, Alice Lessig, Desi Anschau, and Kathy Poloni.

It was a year of

New Ideas

The first girls field hockey team in the history of P.A.H.S. entered competition this year, although not yet in the league. Our girls opposed Nazareth in two scrimmages in which they showed their developing abilities.

Christmas time marked the first annual "Senior Christmas Tree Trim" during which the boughs were decked with ornaments of all kinds.

Whoever imagined the day would come when our spirit reached a peak so high that the guys would stand in front of the crowds and lead cheers? It happened with the Class of '70, and hopefully succeeding classes will carry on this spirit.

Our first AFS student to go abroad, Ann Masut, is seen here being welcomed back to P.A.H.S. by the officers of the IR Club. Her trip to Austria benefited her, the school, and the community.

Responsibility and entertainment shown by

1969-70 Student Leaders

What is a high school? Of course, two important groups are the administration and the faculty, for without them the school would be in constant chaos. Nevertheless, it is the students who actually make up the school because without these recipients of knowledge no school could exist.

Our class officers take the lead in planning important events for the students in their respective classes.

Five of our students were honored with membership in the district chorus. Outstanding in their musical ability, these students participated in the district concert in Easton on January 15 and 16, 1970.

Appearing in an assembly on our stage were Gilmore Honey and the New Generation. Acclaimed by many as one of the best programs ever presented at our high school, this newly organized group sang and portrayed selections representative of our time.

As the sun rises in the East

So Begins the Day

Day after day, each student goes through the ritual of bringing his body to school (sometimes the mind comes along too) squeezing between crowds of people to reach his locker, and finally reaching his destination, homeroom. Solemn ceremonies of meditation and pledge to the flag precede those informative morning announcements over the intercom. Common and trite as these gestures now seem, they will be remembered at P.A.H.S. just as much as the teachers and classes. Following the bell to alert students to wake up, classrooms begin to be filled by many conscientious, eager teenagers welcoming the knowledge which will today be poured into their brains.

As leaders of the newer high school classes, the officers pictured on the preceding page have the added responsibility of guiding their groups along the long and sometimes arduous road ahead.

As students strive for perfection

English Is Put to Use

Sometimes during the day every student absorbs knowledge from an English class, since the study of our native language is a required subject. The English department is striving toward an improved English course by purchasing new textbooks for vo-tech and general students of all grade levels, by beginning an advanced group of eighth graders who will eventually take Honors English, and by planning to build a paper back library so that every eager mind may satisfy its thirst for new and interesting reading material.

Wayne Fulin, Donald Zaleski, Elwood Dietz and Richard Lemley are deeply involved in a biology experiment. All Sophomores are required to take biology.

While students struggle with basic concepts

Science Marches On

From seventh grade life science to twelfth grade physics, busy scientific minds are discovering the basic laboratory techniques used by every great atomic physicist and bacteriologist. However, there are some students who never seem to comprehend a basic law of matter: glass breaks. During practically every lab period can be heard the familiar crash of test tubes, beakers, and graduated cylinders.

Mr. Walter Emery, a new teacher of life science, has entered the classrooms of P.A.H.S. and bravely faced the job of teaching groups of bright, little seventh graders, who love to try new things on their own. Many thanks to him and all the other science teachers, who have kept the labs under control and have prevented our school from being blown up by some Green Knight monsters.

Better use of facilities, this year, enabled 7th grade students to gain experience in the laboratory. Here, Mr. Emery's class tests blood types.

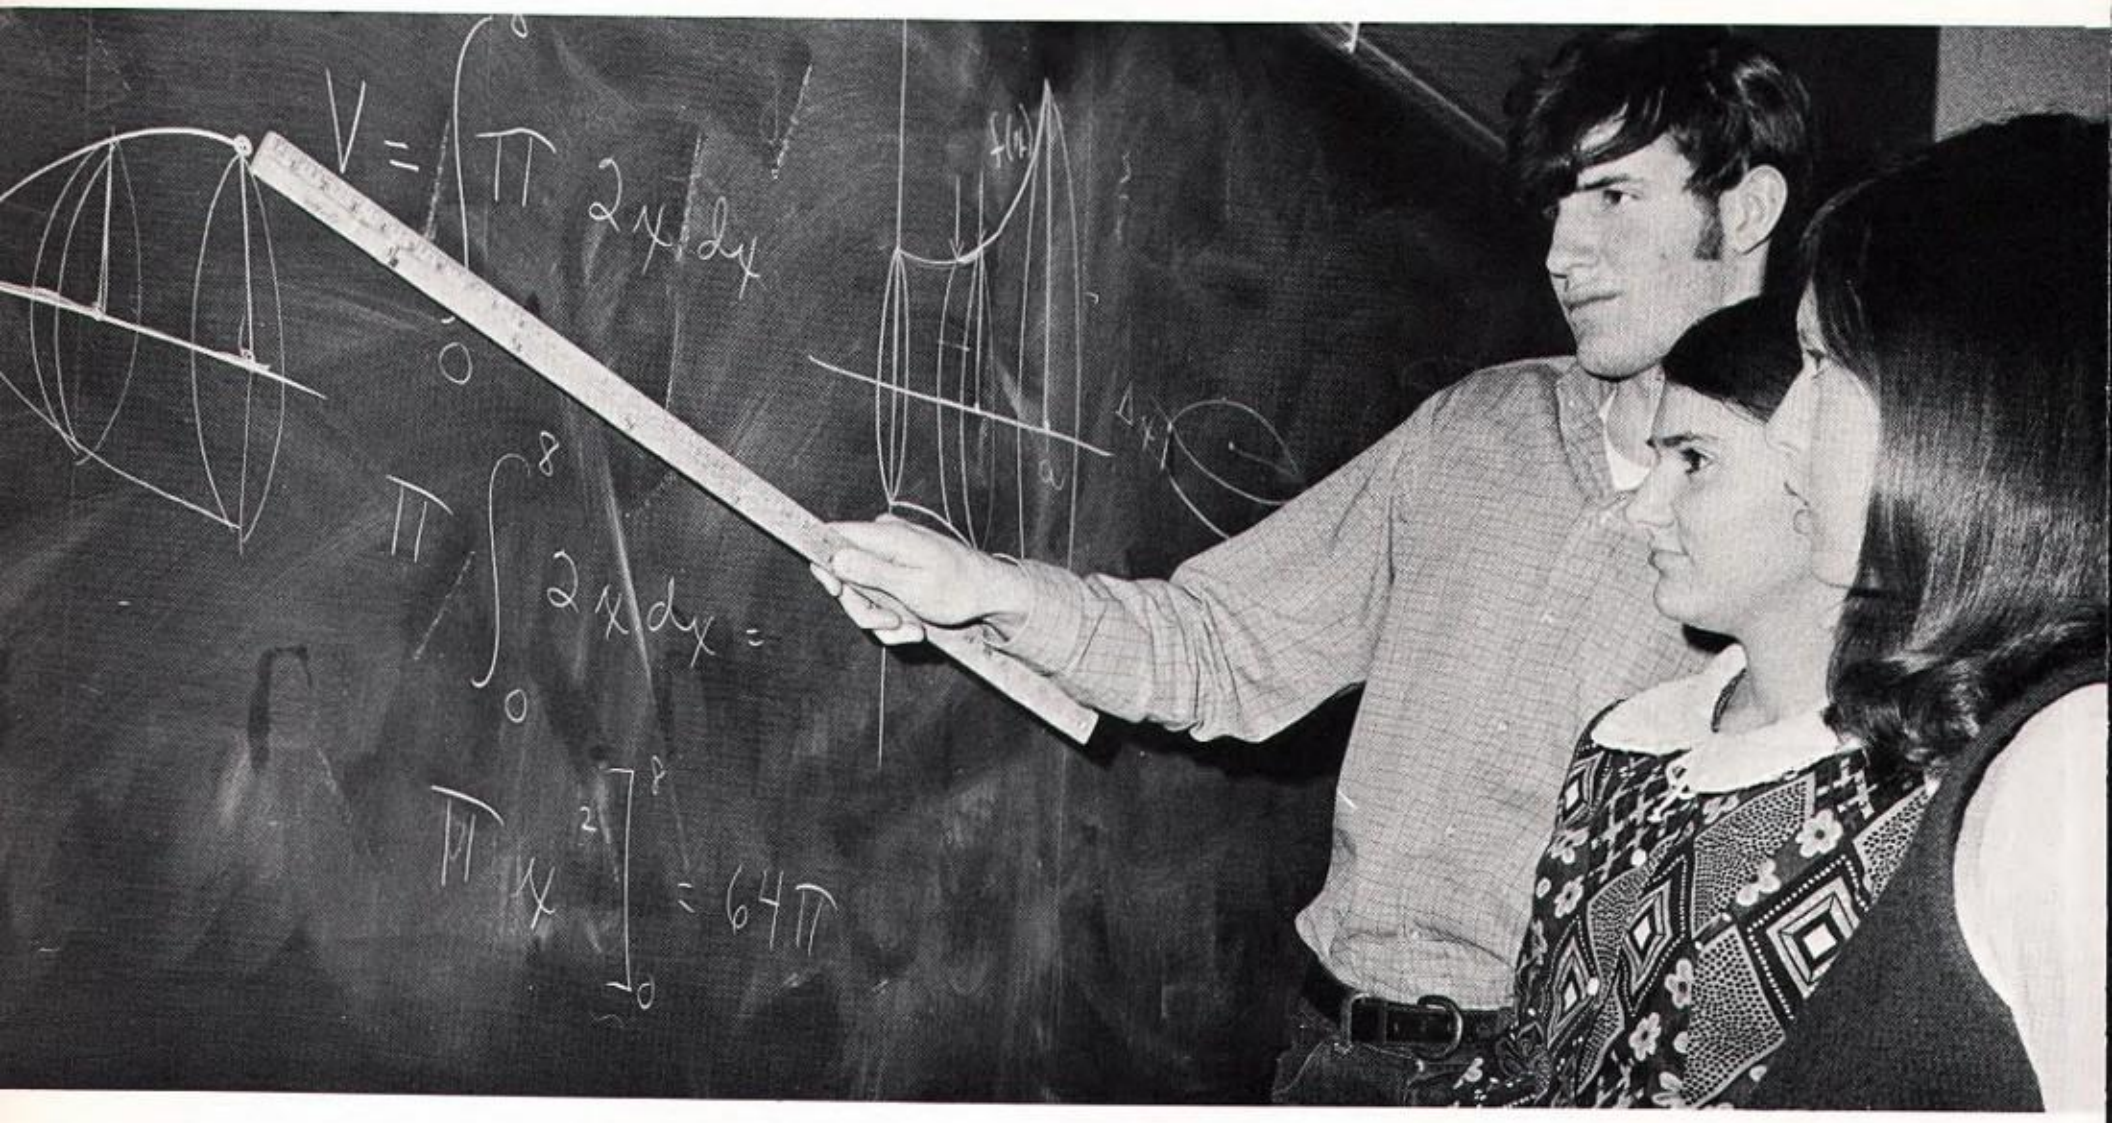
David Mann and Lance Jackson work out details for a chemistry experiment. This past year more students (86) took chemistry than ever before.

As students try to see the light

Math Creates "Problems"

Almost stunned by the wonder of it all, the student concentrates on mathematics, and sometimes even sees the light before the end of the class period. Our math department, led by most capable teachers, is always improving. Starting next year, the general math curriculum will be expanded with the aid of a new series of text books. Students enrolled in the accelerated course receive a thorough knowledge of algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus. They may then elect Honors Math, which is an excellent preparation for college courses.

Three of the 121 students enrolled in the plane geometry sections, Bruce Seigfried, Roxanne Rissmiller and Chuck Uliana, haven't had so much fun since kindergarten.



Sharon Marsh and Diane Barlieb appear awed by Richard Werkheiser's explanation of a problem in calculus class. 15 seniors who began work in the advanced math program 5 years ago make up this group.

LEFT: Ich heisse Dave Pennington. I'm having German in the language lab. BELOW: The best way to learn any language is to speak it. Jayne Kercsmar and Mike Correll act out a skit in Spanish Class.

Between classes and during classes

Communication Goes On

Language is "the effective means for the expression of thoughts, ideas, feelings, and the like." No matter what established system of speech is used by students, be it French, German, Spanish, or the American dialect of English, a picture is still worth a thousand words.

This summer a group of students, chaperoned by Mrs. Bowman, is traveling to Germany, Austria, and Switzerland mainly to view the once-a-decade Passionspiele at Oberammergau.

Who knows what tongue is being spoken between classes while dedicated couples discuss their daily adventures and problems? Fortunately, only the nearby locker knows.

Concerned teaching incites enthusiasm

In Social Studies

With the world as it is today, teaching social studies is a very important job. Anyone can see that after a student leaves a social studies class, he has retained the facts and will draw sensible conclusions from what he has learned. Our community should be proud to observe how "unradical" the students of PAHS are. Our attitude reflects the training we have received from our parents, teachers, and administrators. Hopefully, Pen Argyl graduates in years to come will demonstrate a similar healthy attitude toward the many far out movements of their time. After social studies class students make the regular noontime rush for a half hour lunch break.

New business machines are installed in

The Business Department

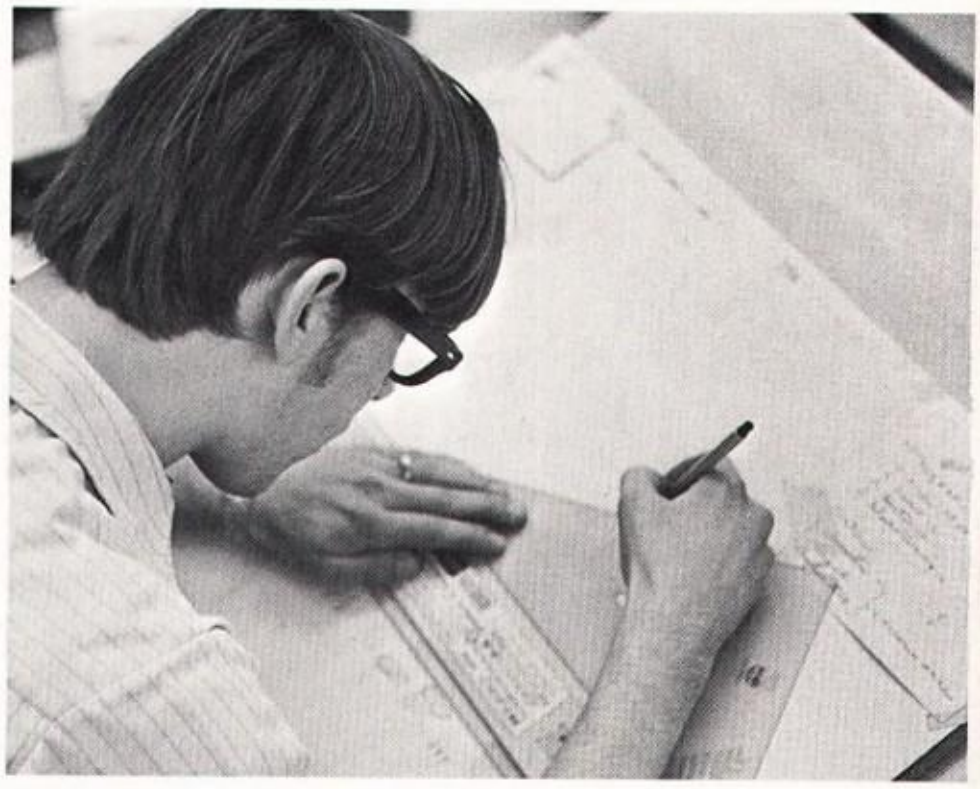
Since instruction in the Business Education Department is keeping pace with the rapid changes taking place in the business world, our students will be thoroughly prepared to take positions in offices from which our country's business affairs are run. Principles of electronic data processing have been taught for several years already, and about a year ago a keypunch machine was installed. With the exception of a few manual typewriters retained for familiarization purposes, typewriting instruction next will be given exclusively on electric machines. Future office practice workers will be aided by a new printing calculator and electronic calculator.

Denny Vough, a freshman industrial arts student, applies the finishing touches to his current project, a hand made chess board. We have approximately one-hundred boys enrolled in the shop programs.

As students learn what things are made of

Creativity Is the Role

Working steadily and diligently on his masterpiece, the student creates with his own two hands the work of a master craftsman. Be it a coffee table, a bench, a house, or a new coat in Home Ec., the completed project is always a work of art, different from everyone else's. Perhaps this singularity is good, for sometimes no one but the creator can tell what his masterpiece is supposed to be. On the other hand, the beginnings of almost every great inventor were small and insignificant. Who knows where these students of PAHS may end up?



One of fifty mechanical drawing students Ralph Behler concentrates on his isometric drawing project. Many designs and blue prints are entered in various art shows throughout the area.

As various points of culture develop

Self Expression Needed

In countless ways these intellectual artists and musicians transmit their talents to everyone at P.A.H.S. A student may wish to cut, hammer, and glue together an "original", or he may combine his talents and draw a French horn or bassoon. Another desire may be to directly force air into a musical instrument until a pleasant sound is produced. Whatever the skill of a particular student is, one may be sure that he expresses his feelings and emotions to the fullest, thereby receiving the greatest possible pleasure from them.

In the gym or on the highway

Students Learn Dexterity

No doubt many people wonder how a person can gather up enough courage to sit beside a student who is behind the wheel of a car for the first time. That's exactly what a few of our outstanding teachers do, day after day. Driver training begins in the school parking lot, driving around cones and trying to leave a few standing. After the trainee has mastered the parking lot, he is turned loose to drive on the same roads on which the public drives. Finally, after parallel parking without running down any posts or curbs, the student takes a driving test to exhibit his newly acquired skills.

Required of every student in the school is Phys. Ed. twice every week. During those inspiring periods they may shoot baskets, spike volleyballs, bat baseballs, or sometimes swing like Tarzan from a swinging rope. No wonder Pen Argyl students are in such excellent physical condition.

The best time of day begins

When Classes End

"I will be a flower girl at the wedding and give the groom an iron tooth pick." Could you see John Ewald as a flower girl at Linda Herd's wedding?

Never fear, it is true that our scholars have to leave their day time work; however, there is plenty of homework to keep them busy all night. All seriousness aside, the night life provided by our school is invigorating and enjoyable, too. Immediately following school may be play practice, or any number of activities. After the sun sets, the school is sometimes packed with fans for a basketball game or wrestling match. Special occasions such as the Valentine's Dance draw crowds of students who look forward to less light and less noise. No matter what happens during the hours after school, everyone rises early the next morning to continue his daily schedule of impounding more facts into his brain and drawing more wise conclusions.

Board Stresses Efficiency

Always working toward a better school system, the school board and other officials act as servants of the community. There have been discussions about adding instructional aids for teachers; these aids are two-year college graduates who plan to complete their education at another institution.

The use of the computer for report cards and schedules will be extended to include assigning more efficient bus transportation routes and stops. Already two new buses have been purchased and put to good use.

The most outstanding advancement affecting our whole school system is the building of a new elementary school, scheduled to be completed in June, 1971. Seating 750 people, the new auditorium will aid the community tremendously; furthermore, the new gym will be used by some of our varsity and junior varsity teams, since our gyms do not adequately serve as practice sites for our large number of athletes.

Woody Petchel sets new scoring record as

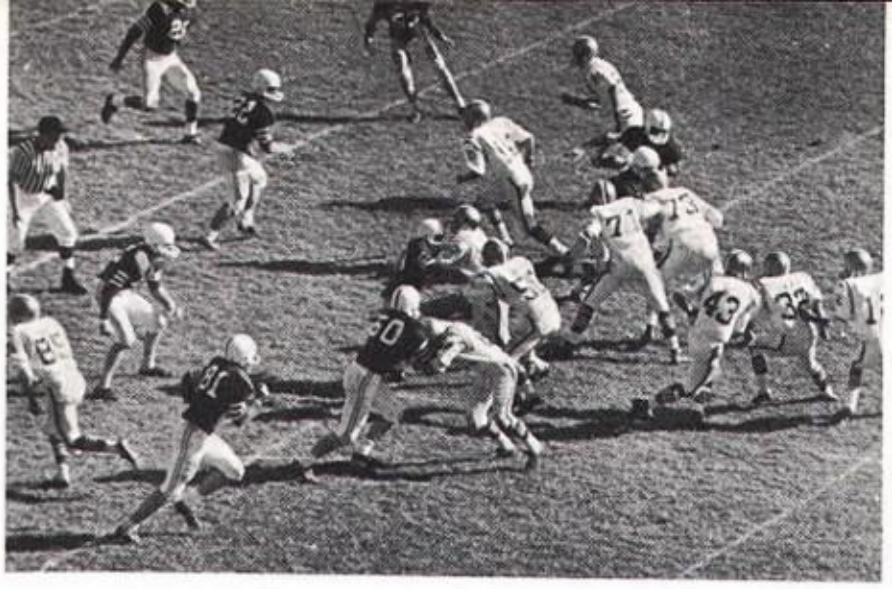
Knights Go 8-2

The 1969 gridiron season saw sophomore sensation Woody Petchel, son of Coach Petchel, break a Pen Argyl season scoring record that stood for 35 years. Back in 1934 Gil Strunk scored 140 points while leading his team to a perfect 8-0 season. This past year Woody scored 186 points while racking up 1132 yards on the ground to become the Knights' first player to rush for better than 1000 yards in one season. He was the state's third leading scorer and lead Pen Argyl to a fine 8-2 record. The other offensive leaders were seniors Carl Dobes with 524 yards gained and fullback Barry Cortez who averaged 5.8 yards per carry. It was only the 6th time since 1922 that the Green and White have won as many as eight games in one season, and much of the success came as a result of a fine attitude, great desire, and excellent school spirit on the part of senior team members.

The Knights, with a tremendous offense and stingy defense, started off the season with a roar. Led by Petchel, Dobes, Cortez, and quarterback Duane Woolley they bowled over the first five opponents with ease averaging 40 points per game. Much of the offensive attack could be attributed to fine blocking and a defense that provided plenty of scoring opportunities. Middle guard Scott Parsons was the team defensive leader with 37 tackles for the season.

The stumbling block came in the sixth game against Nazareth. In a heated battle on the Blue Eagle field a determined Knight drive was stopped by the clock on the Nazareth 10 yard line insuring Nazareth's fifth straight win over Pen Argyl, 12-7. In the following weeks the Green and White bounced back to whip Wilson and Hellertown before playing their only bad game of the season at Parkland. The Trojans were unstoppable in a 36-0 victory.

Many fans figured the Knights were looking ahead to Thanksgiving Day and the time proved them correct. Against the Slaters, the blocking and tackling were devastating and in the ensuing 33-0 rout the Knights picked up their second win over Bangor in the last six years.



TOP: Sequence action shows quarterback Duane Wooley (43) dropping back to pass. Behind excellent blocking he lofts a 20 yard TD pass to end Dave Lessig. Lessig takes the ball in the end zone as the referee signals touchdown! EXTREME RIGHT: On opening day Knights treated fans to a thrilling 30-22 win over Lehighton. Constant pressure was put on the Lehighton quarterback by Allen Biechy (72), Tom Turtzo (70), and Denny Meckler (84). ABOVE: The violent action in the Nazareth game is dramatized by ferocious blocking and tackling. Woody Petchel (13) almost shakes loose for a TD but a single arm tackle prevents a Knight victory. RIGHT: The ease with which Pen Argyl defeated East 'Burg is shown by the holes opened in the Cavalier line. Jim Fedon (50), Bob Sullivan (63), Matt Beal (61), Jerry Gold (85), and Barry Cortez (33) lead Woody Petchel for a huge gain.

J.V.'s Go 9-1

Each of the past three years the Little Knight football team, coached by Mr. William Ruggiero and Mr. Thomas Chuss, came within one game of a perfect season. In fact, the previous two years the games were lost by a total of only three points. This year the stumbling block was Wilson who won out 22-6 in a bruising battle, played on the Warrior field.

The sophomore laden team had little trouble with the rest of the season except for the Palmerton and Bangor games when they had to come from behind to win in the second half.

The Knights relied on a powerful ground game, led by Joe Powell and Barry Roberts who scored 82 and 74 points respectively, to average better than 23 points per game and a defense that allowed opponents only 9 points per game.

Draught ends — Knights whip Eagles twice in

Varsity Basketball

A victory over Nazareth in anything is glorious but to beat them twice in one season is something else again. Not since 1959 have the Knights' quintet beaten the Eagles twice, but they did it this year 73-67 and 71-66. Nazareth still managed to win the LNL championship but that only made the victories sweeter.

Led by senior Bob Bath and junior Dwight Repsher Pen Argyl had their first winning season since 1964. Bath finished as top scorer with 413 points and Repsher was second with 348. Butch Williams followed with 186 and Dave Lessig chipped in with 119.

The 12-10 record compiled by coach Ed Folk's Knights is not indicitive of how close they came to being league champs themselves. In two games against East Burg the Green and White had foul shots missed after the clock had run out with the score tied. Both games were lost in overtime. In six league losses the total point spread was 18 points, and to further show the closeness between victory and defeat the Knights averaged 62.8 points offensively while giving up 60.1 points defensively.

A 4-18 won-lost record is posted by

J.V. Basketball

In these days of the big man in basketball it's pretty tough to win without one and this is just what Coach Bowman was faced with this past year. Lack of size proved to be the undoing of the team in most of the losses. Although in most of the games the Little Knights proved to be a scrappy team by the time the second half rolled around it was the same story of being worn down by bigger opponents. Difficulty in working the ball inside led to many of the lopsided scores.

Another problem in a school our size is lack of numbers of players. Many times the junior varsity suffers when players have to shift back and forth between the varsity and J.V. teams. Matt Beal, who led the J.V. scorers with 165 points played less than half the season as did Jerry Gergar, the second leading scorer (129 points). However, in spite of a rather disappointing season many of the underclassmen gained experience for varsity ball which high school basketball is all about.

Future varsity stars shine in

Junior High Basketball

The junior high basketball program is designed to develope players for future varsity teams so, although everyone likes to win, an attempt is made to give as many boys as possible a chance to play and develope an interest in the sport. Sometimes this costs ball games but continued interest in the program makes it worth it. Although the season only produced three victories several boys showed they have the potential to develope into varsity stars.

The team scoring leaders were Mike Fiorot with 116 points, Tom Waring with 86 points, and Jim Smith with 77 points.

The going was rough this year in

Girls' Basketball

A winless season is always a tough pill to swallow in any sport and the Knightette basketball squad with an 0-10 record, found difficulty in swallowing this one. Offense proved to be their undoing and, with the new rules changes that allowed all players to play the whole court, the girls were able to average only 16 points per game. Senior Mary Oliver lead the scorers with 50 points followed by Debbie Edwards, also a senior, with 20. Defensively the team played fairly well giving up 43 points per ame but lopsided scores resulted as the offense failed to keep pace.

On the brighter side, the team loses only seven seniors. Hopes are that the up and coming underclassmen will turn the record around next year.

New team and individual records set in

Varsity Wrestling

The 1969-70 varsity wrestling season was the most notable one in the brief six year history of the sport here at Pen Argyl. In our first winning season the team posted a very impressive 10-4 won-lost record and three wrestlers, Keith Meller, Jim Fedon, and Bill Hicks had outstanding individual seasons. Miller, a senior heavyweight, had a record of 15-2 with a remarkable record of 12 first period pins. Fedon, another senior, had a 16-3 record including 9 pins and Hicks, a sophomore was 11-4-1.

Nine seniors will be lost to the team this year, but a good nucleus of underclassmen are expected to fill the gaps to keep up the winning ways established this past year. Graduating, besides Miller and Fedon, were Steve Jones (6-7-1), Tom Quear (0-1), Scott Williamson (7-3-1), Jeff Conroy (2-1-1), Scott Parsons (6-5), Roger Holland (2-0), and John Parry (0-1).

Impressive individual records tabbed in

J.V. Wrestling

Four underclassmen scored eight or more wins for the little Knight grapplers and for the fourth straight year, with a 9-5 record, they carded a winning season. Leading the parade was Joe Powell, a sophomore, who was undefeated with an 8-0 slate that included 3 pins. Brian Wagner, another sophomore, was 9-2 (4 pins), Kevin Hendershot, a freshman, went 9-4, and Otis Baker, a junior, was 9-5 including 5 pins. Five other underclassmen also registered winning records.

Coached by Lehigh graduate, Tom Muir, the J.V.'s started slowly, losing their first 2 starts to Stroudsburg and Wilson. However, from then on they continued to improve and finished with a 6 match winning streak. The sophomore dominated squad could mean continued wrestling prosperity for at least 2 more years.

A sport off to a flying start at PAHS is

Gymnastics

The varsity gym team, in only its second year of existence, has already distinguished itself throughout the area as a top notch competitive team. In the initial season last year it was possible to schedule only one meet. This year the squad competed in seven meets (winning five) as well as various other competitions and exhibitions in the area. In an AAU meet for boys at Reading they captured 3 medals and at a YMCA meet in Scranton for boys and girls they came home with 34 medals and two trophies.

Tom Miller, captain of the boys, and Debbie Lobb, captain of the girls, were the only members of the team lost by graduation. Miller specialized in vaulting, the side horse, and the high bar while Debbie was an all-around performer.

Lance Jackson sets new half mile mark in

Varsity Track

Lack of depth once again hurt the thinclad's chances of a winning season in 1970, and the result was a 2-6-1 record. In past seasons the Knights were unable to garner enough first place finishes to win many meets, but this past year the lack of second and third places proved to be our undoing. (Pen Argyl has never had a winning record in track) the Nazareth, Pocono Mountain, Palisades, East 'Burg, and Wilson meets could have been won with a second or third here and there.

Seniors Tom Turtzo and Scott Walck provided plenty of first place points in the shot put and javelin respectively. Walck went on to become the District 11 javelin champion and placed 7th in the state meet at Penn State. Other consistent winners were Dave Vough in the 100 and 220 yd. dashes, Jerry Gold in the pole vault and Woody Petchel in the long jump.

Once again the distance races were the sore spots with senior miler Tom Miller and junior Lance Jackson being the only consistent point getters. The most encouraging note here came late in the season when Jackson began turning it on in the half mile and breaking the school record twice straight with times of 2:11.9 and 2:11.3.

TOP: The 100 yard dash is one of the shortest but most exciting races in track. The Knight's most consistent sprinter was junior Dave Vough (no. 28 at left and 2nd from right at right). Actually, Dave's best race is the 180 yard low hurdles. He finished second in the districts in that event but an ankle injury prevented him from competing in the state meet. First winning season since 1962 in

Varsity Baseball

It's been a long time since the Knights have fielded a winning baseball team, but this was the year the long seven year draught ended. This was the year of revitalized school spirit and it resulted with winning teams in almost every sport.

Coach Bill Ruggiero, in his third season, put together a fine hitting team that won 9 games and lost 7 and one that defeated Bangor for the first time since 1963. And the best news of all is that 6 of the 9 starters will be returning next year to provide the nucleus for what should be another league contender. (The Knights finished in a second place tie this past year with Bangor.) Returning will be the three leading hitters, Matt Beal (.354), Bill Toth (.333), and Jerry Gergar (.315) as well as Jack Kohan who finished second in RBIs with 11. Gergar led the team with 13.

Seniors who will be missed through graduation include pitchers Bob Troxell (5-4) and Dan Gava (1-1), catcher Rich Buskirk (.311), and second baseman Tom Quear (finished second in runs scored with 10), and outfielder Tom McWilliams whose diving catch saved the second Pocono Mountain game.

Catcher Rich Buskirk makes a diving attempt to tag out Bangor pitcher Glen Henning at the plate. However, Henning was safe, as signaled by the on deck batter Don Ruvolis. Pitcher Bob Troxell backs up the play. Pen Argyl won 6-2.

Jack Kohan dives safely into third with a stolen base against East Stroudsburg. It was all to no avail, however, as the Knights dropped a 3-2 squeaker.

Each school ended with 6 wins and in the event of a tie the winner of the Thanksgiving game is awarded the trophy.

2nd straight winning season in

JV Baseball

The J.V. baseball team continued their winning ways this past season by compiling a 5-3 won-lost record for their second winning season in a row. Two of the three losses were avenged the second time around as the Little Knights beat Pocono Mountain and Bangor 7-5 and 4-3. The team proved they could score runs easily enough as they scored at least four times in every game, but once again lack of pitching depth proved fateful in the losses.

Mike Palmisano and Barry Roberts were the team's batting leaders with averages of .388 and .333 respectively.

Keith Wilson leads team to best year in

Varsity Golf

Two years ago Pen Argyl entered a golf team in the Lehigh Northampton League for the first time. That year the team won one match with the low score for the season being 86. This past year four of our golfers qualified for the District 11 tournament with averages of 88 or less and we became contenders for the league championship with a record of 5-1-1. Only an early season tie with Pocono Mountain prevented the Knights from sharing the title with Southern Lehigh.

Once again the team was lead by Keith "Arnold" Wilson, who as a sophomore, broke all the existing school records. His 72, shot against Nazareth on the Ackermanville course, set a new meet record for Pen Argyl, and his overall average of 77 bested last years average by 6 strokes. Senior Dave Lessig also improved his game tremendously as he finished the season with an average of 85. His victory in the Parkland meet over Bob Zundel, one of the league's better golfers, provided the margin of victory over the defending champion Trojans.

Speakers from this area were Carol Seifrit who had studied in Colombia, Lynn Phillips who had studied in Germany, four Bangor High School students (Patty Brown, Debbie Rice, Jeff Hamill, and Miles Hamm) who traveled in Germany last summer, and Ann Masut who spent ten weeks in Austria last summer as an American Field Service student.

Activities of the club included a Christmas Bazaar to raise money for our Korean orphan, Oh Mi Ok; selling UNICEF Christmas cards, contributing to CARE for Valentine's Day, a Christmas party at which Santa Claus (Mrs. Hazel Williams) presented Pen Argyl Area High School rings to our two honorary members — Ulrike Gombert, ICYE student from Germany, and Roberto Urbieta, AFS student from Paraguay, and a farewell picnic for seniors at the end of the year.

A very active, interesting, and informative club describes the Coin Club, advised by Mr. and Mrs. Millard. The officers include Bruce Siegfried, president; Larry Nester, vice-president; Robert Ambrose, secretary; Steve Herd, treasurer. The beginning of each meeting is devoted to general knowledge, such as how to grade coins and how to detect counterfeit coins. Then the students' memories are tested during a coin quiz. They also have an opportunity to buy, sell, and trade in a coin auction.

Members are kept abreast as to what is happening locally and nationally. The possibility of obtaining certain coins in a certain location is made known.

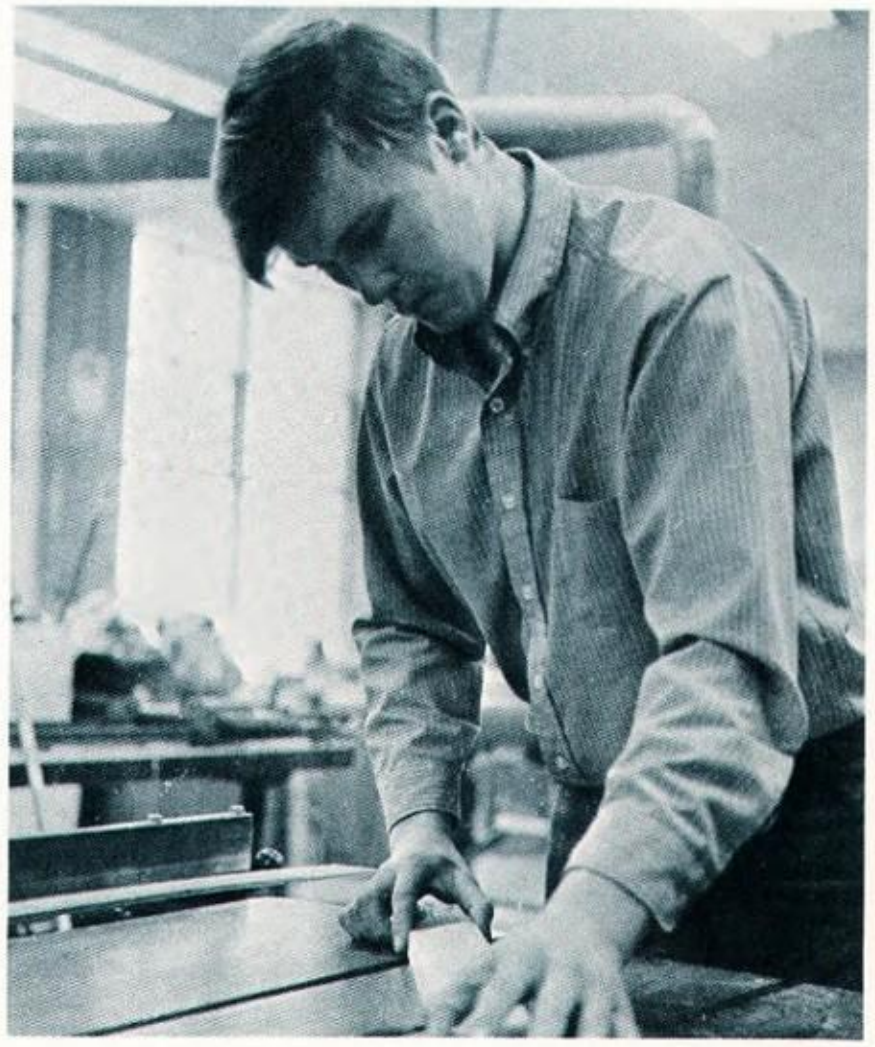
Ever present behind the scenes

Stage Crew

Without the stage crew, we would never have original preparations for sets and scenery when a stage production calls for assistance.

Their obligations do not end with just scenery production, however. During rehersals and performances they also set up and handle all the lighting effects as well as the amplification system, sound effects and many other incidentals that make a stage production a success. Much of their work is done in the shops so each crew member must be adept at working with wood, metal, and other construction materials.

These boys always remain behind the scenes receiving very little glory or reward, but no assembly program, play or musical presentation could get along without them.



Senior stage crew member Scott Walck is preparing a stage set for the senior play. Much of the work is done in the shop.

Working day and night, these students provide this yearbook to preserve precious memories of past high school days. Making layouts, writing copy, taking orders, photographing people and activities, and typing everything for the final deadline are just a few of the responsibilities carried by these people. After the many arguments and conflicts are over, no one regrets one minute of the time they put into this book.

Seniors Lead the Way

Admired and respected by most underclassmen, the seniors were the people who set the example as the school's typical type of student. Even though some activities were not heartily approved by the office, it must be noted that the Class of '70 did more during their years than simply follow the crowd. While finding time in their busy schedules, our seniors donned a more formal expression and posed for their portraits, which appear on the following pages.

Few people work harder then the

Cheerleaders

SPIRIT is the word you hear from cheerleaders and students alike at all football games, basketball games, and wrestling matches. Long hours of practice, the making of posters, and cutting confetti were positive factors that helped produce one of the greatest football and basketball teams in Pen Argyl history. The wrestling team also had its best record ever winning 10 matches, and the enthusiasm shown by the entire student body was at its highest peak. Much of the credit must go to this outstanding group of girls who never complained of the hard work involved.

No band would appear sharp without the

Majorettes, Color Guard

Under the supervision of Mrs. Vivian Wagner and leadership of head majorette, Sharon Rowe, our majorettes added precision and color to our pre-game and half-time football game presentations. Since three girls attended majorette camp last summer, more new twirls and ideas for routines were incorporated into the programs.

In addition to the majorettes, the color guard complimented our band at football games, in Pen Argyl's Labor Day parade, and in Bangor's Halloween parade. Miss Judy Byrnes, the advisor, Karen Long, captain, and Jennifer Gum, co-captain, did an excellent job organizing routines for our entertainment. Thirteen girls comprised the official color guard squad, each having a specific duty of carrying the banner, one of six green and white flags, one of two rifles, the sword, our school flag or our American flag.

Music in the springtime is supplied by

The Concert Band

Pen Argyl's Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Theodore Bull, practiced throughout the winter in preparation for their Spring Concert, held on April 24, and for Commencement on June 11. The audience, which filled the auditorium, heard a varied repertoire of music, including such highlights as "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet", excerpts from "My Fair Lady" and "Londonderry Air", featuring Sherwood Shaplin in a trombone solo. Since most of the present members will be returning, an even better performance is anticipated for next year.

As students seek satisfaction

Music Makes It

The Junior Chorus, consisting of 91 seventh and eighth grade students, combines with the Senior Chorus, consisting of 164 singers from ninth to twelfth grades, to perform two formal programs a year. Adding beauty and reverence to the auditorium during the Christmas season, the choruses present their first vocal performance. Then, after practicing for months to attain musical perfection, the eager chorus members display their talents in the spring program, presented during National Music Week, this year on May seventh and eighth.

"Music of the 60's" traced the development of music at the pop level during the past decade, bringing to life recent broadway show tunes and modern pop and rock.

For your added pleasure

Knights of Song

In addition to the choruses which have been organized, a small group representing the best of the Senior Chorus, grades ten through twelve, has been organized during the past six years. Preparing a fall and a spring repertoire each year, they make themselves available to both school and community functions.

Organizations receive secretarial help from

The Business Ed Club

For the purpose of rendering secretarial service to school organizations and projects, eighteen seniors formed a Business Education Club. By applying their office skills, the members gained valuable experience for their future professions. Offering leadership and organization are the officers Marian Ackerman, Pres.; Marian Roberts, Vice-Pres.; Lillie Achenbach, Sec.; and Pat Wiggins, Treas.

Throughout the year the club has aided numerous school functions, such as the Green Echo, the World Cultures bound volume, the Creative Writing booklet, the Christmas assembly, and the assistant principal's office.

45 girls make up this years'

FTA

Traditionally one of the most popular clubs in the school is FTA, with a membership of forty-five interested girls. The annual morp, for which the girls chased the boys, turned out to be a great success. In April, Teaching Career Month, the club's activities reached a climax. Each teacher received an apple, and posters were scattered throughout the school. This year a nationwide movement, the Environmental Teach-In on April 22, took a firm stand against pollution in our country. Not only were words spoken, but actions were taken to help prevent our nation from completely becoming one huge garbage dump.

From TV to slides you can rely on

The Visual Aids Club

Providing a necessary service for teachers and students alike is the Audio-Visual Aids Club, advised by Mr. Godshall. They record live as well as prerecorded programs from regular TV stations. The audio-visual materials produced include slides, 8 mm motion pictures, transparencies, and tapes of sporting events. Whenever a teacher wishes a projector of any kind set up, the audio-visual members are available for assistance.

Prospective angels of mercy make up

The Future Nurses

Mrs. Ronalds, our school nurse and club advisor, tries to prepare interested girls for their future nursing professions by inviting speakers from different hospitals to discuss the qualifications and admission policies for their respective hospitals. To compare local hospitals with small and large hospitals in other areas, the club traveled to Philadelphia General Hospital in the spring. The remaining money at the end of the year was donated to charities, such as UNICEF and Cancer.

Scholarship, leadership characterize the National Honor Society

Chosen for their scholarship, leadership, character, and service, the members of the National Honor Society belong to a most respected organization. The officers Debbie Edwards, president; Carl Dobes, vice president; Mary Oliver, secretary; and Sharon Weidman, Treasurer, served throughout the year with greatest efficiency. In April, the senior and newly elected junior members attended a National Honor Society conference at Lehigh University. During the day, the members enjoyed meeting students from various high schools and being subjected to different points of view.

Debbie Edwards helped preside in the annual induction ceremonies for new members which included Pat Benn and Bret Altemose.

As times change and new problems arise

We Govern Ourselves

More this year than ever before, the Student Government was an active group in the school and community. All plans began during the meetings led by officers Robert Bath, president; Michael Stracko, vice president; Laurie Stofflet, secretary; Thomas Turtzo, treasurer; and Dennis Meckler, parliamentarian, and advised by Mrs. McKay. The spring saw active opposition to present dangers, especially pollution. On Earth Day, April 22, members of the House and Grounds committee enthusiastically picked up garbage in the halls, rooms, and out-of-doors, besides inciting an overall clean-up of the community by displaying anti-pollution posters throughout the building.

Seniors have a ball at

The Prom and Class Day

This year the junior-senior prom was held at Shivers in Forks Township. Teachers as well as students enjoyed the change in atmosphere of dancing and eating away from the high school gym. From 10:00 P.M. to 2:00 A.M. Neil Conway's band offered entertainment while our faculty and young people danced and began their banquet. Johnny and the High Keys set the pace for the remainder of the evening until 5:00 A.M., when the tired people departed to continue their plans at another location — be it eating breakfast, going to church, or falling asleep.

Seniors enjoyed class day so much at Fernwood this year that they didn't want to leave. During the day, activities such as swimming, tennis, archery, horseback riding, and shuffleboard could be shared with friends. The night time entertainment, with music provided by a great dance band, found students dancing on and on with no desire to stop. May 27, 1970 is one day that our seniors will never forget.

Reverend Ewald delivers message to seniors at

Baccalaureate

On June 7 the class of 1970 met in the high school stadium to be honored by the local churches while a large number of parents and friends looked on. The Reverend John Truitt served as liturgist, and the Reverend Louis Ewald delivered a speech entitled "Wisdom Has Built Her House."

From now on the departing seniors are on their own to accept the challenge of the future, and to strive for peace in the forthcoming years. Our young people, who will soon be leading our nation, must accept the important responsibilities which will be handed over to them, including raising a family, earning a living, and contributing to our country's welfare. Above all, we must work for a lasting peace, no matter how long it may take.

RIGHT: Our photographer, Kermit Pysher, pauses during his last assignment of the year at graduation to have his own picture taken for a change. The yearbook staff would like to extend its best wishes and gratitude to Mr. Pysher for all his help throughout the year. BELOW: It has finally come, the night we have waited 12 years for, graduation night. BELOW LEFT: One new innovation this year was to have the seniors march through an arch located on the South side of the football stadium. They marched to the North stands from here instead of the customary procession through the main gate.

The beginning of a new

Graduation — June 11, 1970

The day on which the class of '70 became history to Pen Argyl High School was June 11, 1970. Before the seniors flipped their tassels to the right, they heard a speech by Dr. Orlo M. Brees, the topic being "What is America? A Heritage, A Way of Life, A Destiny?" Sharon Marsh, Diane Barlieb, and Debbie Kmetz, student speakers, gave their views on "Images of America." After the members of the senior class received their diplomas, they sang the Alma Mater for the first time while no longer being students of P.A.H.S. Each graduate must now face his own responsibilities for the future.
